See Christmas number. The Century Co. [illegible] N.Y.

THE December number of Lippincott's Monthly Magazine opens with "From the Ranks," another brilliant military novel from Capt. Charles King, whose "Deserter" in the May number was enthusiastically received. "Paul Cadmus' Great Case," by Albion W. Tourgee, is the first of a series of short stories of mystery, complication, and detective ingenuity to be published under the general heading "With Gaslight & Lantern." Each story is complete in itself, though all revolve around a common centre of interest.

In addition, Miss F. C. Baylor contributes a delightful bit of humor, "The Drum-Major;" Lucy C. Lillie an interesting and valuable sketch of "Jenny Lind Goldschmidt," with personal reminiscences; Janet Edmonds, formerly of the Boston Ideals, an amusing account of "My First Appearance;" and there are sketches, poems, and essays by Ella Wheeler Wilcox, Rose Hawthorne Lathrop, Bessie Chandler, Mary Portatis, etc., entertaining "Gossip" and "Book Talk."

The addition of a complete novel to the regular magazine selections has proved a great popular success, and will be continued during the coming year. Books are promised from a brilliant array of writers as Amelia Rives, Edgar Saltus, Wm. H. Bishop, Brander Matthews, Julia Magruder, Maud Howe, Mrs. A. L. Wister, and others.

SUBSCRIBE NOW.

Those subscribing before the end of the year will receive the December number (Capt. King's "From the Ranks") free of charge.

Single copies, 25 cents. Annual subscription, $3.00.
